

Critical Support Needed for MALTA

East Bay Aviators, Inc dba Motivation and Learning Through Aviation (MALTA) is an IRS 501©(3) Non-profit corporation located at the Hayward Executive Airport, Hayward, California, 94541.

As a non-profit organization “MALTA is in critical need of public support” in order to remain viable and continue the youth community service it is dedicated to providing our youth in need.

Formed in 2006, Malta’s motto is dedicated to “Uplifting youth so that they may see their potential” through Aviation. As a resource model, Malta’s outreach is focused on youth at risk, the underserved, minorities and those who are potential candidates for involvement in our juvenile justice system.

Included in the program activities are flight training, maintenance training and field trips to aviation industry facilities. Some of the field trip facilities are NASA, Federal Aviation Administration, and air carrier maintenance and flight facilities.

MALTA’s equipment includes a flight simulator, training shop, hanger and Cessna 150 airplane for flying and maintenance training instruction. There are costs involved with maintaining the training airplane, flight simulator, maintenance shop, hanger and insurance on the facilities and equipment.

Please consider making an affordable tax-deductible donation today to keep MALTA viable and supporting our youth. When you make your generous contribution today, it will help a youth at risk in starting on a path to purposeful achievement and success. Please send your donation today. Reference the donation page of this website for instructions to make a donation to MALTA or use the address located on this page above.
